For Sale : € 70,000

Description
Ormideia keeps the easy rhythm of a Larnaca village, and this large residential field sits within reach of its community centre, with village life close at hand.

The land is flat, and a long frontage onto a public road gives it direct road access. Standing on level ground like this, it is easy to walk the field and picture where a home might one day sit. Most of the land lies in a residential zone, offering room for a home in a village setting. A small part falls within a protection zone.

The whole field covers 34,694 m², and you feel that sense of open ground as soon as you step onto it. Its irregular outline follows the road along one side, so the frontage and the flat surface work together and make the land simple to understand at a glance. The sale is of a 13/50 share of the field.

Flat ground, a generous road frontage and the village of Ormideia nearby make this a grounded place to begin thinking about a home in the Larnaca countryside.
