For Sale : € 50,000

Description
There is real satisfaction in planning a home from the ground up, and this plot for sale in Lympia offers that chance. Set on a cul-de-sac in a residential setting, it gives you 565 m² of level, regular land with a southern orientation. That makes it a sensible starting point for a home designed around the sun and your own way of living.

The tidy shape and smooth surface keep the layout uncomplicated. You are free to choose a contemporary or a traditional design and to decide on every material and finish. The land also has direct road access, so reaching the site is straightforward.

Daily life is easy here. Schools, supermarkets, shops and banks are close by. Restaurants, cafés, parks and green spaces are a short drive away, and so is the neighbouring town of Dali. The Nicosia–Larnaca motorway is within walking distance, which puts both cities comfortably within reach for work and weekends.

Lympia pairs a village setting with practical connections in every direction. This is a plot where you can build your home to your own specification, in a place that suits everyday life.
