Description
A level agricultural field of 4051 m² in Geri, set among open farmland within the Nicosia district. The ground is flat across the plot, which has an irregular shape. As agricultural land it suits cultivation and planting.

The village centre and neighbouring Latsia are a short drive away, with Strovolos and the motorway network a little further. The field has no direct road access. A flat, open piece of farmland in a countryside setting away from dense development.
