For Sale : € 57,000

Description
In the village of Pera, a short drive from the water and open landscape of Tamasos Lake, this residential field offers a generous setting for a home of your own. At 3,011 m², it gives you real room to think about how you want to live, with space to place a home just as you imagine it.

The land is level and neatly rectangular. That simple shape makes it straightforward to plan, whether you picture a compact single-storey house or something larger. The residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors.

Daily life stays easy. The village centre is a short drive away, so errands and familiar local faces are close at hand. When the week is done, the lake is close enough for an unhurried afternoon outdoors. Pera keeps its own village character while staying connected to the wider Nicosia district.

A large, level field in a village setting, with room for the home you have been waiting to build.
