For Sale : € 650,000

Description
In the Pyla community of Larnaca, with the beaches a short drive away, this large residential field gives you room to picture a home of your own.

The land is rectangular, with a relatively even surface, a simple shape to plan around. Roads run along three of its sides and give it direct road access. Its residential zoning allows for a home of up to two floors.

Everyday life sits within easy reach. The town of Larnaca is a short drive away, and the UCLan University campus is close by. The Larnaca - Agia Napa motorway is easy to reach from the area.

The southern section is under a National Guard requisition for civil defence purposes, which includes an existing anti-vehicle trench along part of the southern boundary. The sale is for an 83% share of the field. This is a sizeable stretch of residential land in Pyla, with Larnaca and the beaches both a short drive away.
