Description
In a quiet residential corner of Archangelos Anthoupoli, Lakatameia, this detached family house opens onto a landscaped yard with its own barbecue area, a setting made for long evenings outdoors with family and friends.

Downstairs, the living room, sitting room, dining area and kitchen flow together in one open-plan space, with an island at the heart of the kitchen and a guest toilet close at hand. Upstairs are three bedrooms and a main bathroom, and the master bedroom has its own en-suite shower and a private balcony. Higher still, the attic holds an extra room with its own toilet, adding flexibility to the home. A covered veranda and an open one carry everyday life outside, and a covered parking space shelters the car.

Parks and green spaces lie within walking distance, while supermarkets and shops are a short drive away. A distribution agreement is in place. The sale is for a 53% share of the property.

A calm neighbourhood, a yard for summer barbecues and a stroll to the park: here, everyday life has room to breathe.
