For Sale : € 32,000

Description
Potamia sets the scene: a community in the Nicosia district, with neighbouring Agios Sozomenos a short drive away. The motorway and the centre of Dali are both within easy reach by car, so the wider district stays close while village life stays at the heart of things.

At 16,138 m², this is a generous stretch of ground in a residential zone, where a home is the natural use and up to two floors may be built. Standing on it, you can begin to picture where a house might rise and how the land around it could be shaped over time.

Schools are a short drive away, which keeps everyday routines practical in this residential setting.

The sale is for a share of the field, not the whole of it.

A large residential field near Potamia, with room for a home to take shape among the villages of the Nicosia district.
