Description
In the Kaimakli quarter of Nicosia, this residential plot places a future home right inside the life of the city. Schools stand next door, and parks and green spaces are within walking distance, so everyday routines can stay close and simple.

The land is rectangular and relatively flat, an uncomplicated shape to plan around, and it fronts a road for direct access. At 264 m², it is a compact city plot. Its residential zoning gives room for a home, and up to four floors may be built here.

Picture the first sketches taking form: a family home designed from the ground up, set on a regular, level piece of land and rooted in a city neighbourhood rather than on its edge. With main roads easy to reach, the rest of Nicosia stays within comfortable range.

A practical base for year-round city living, with the freedom to build exactly the home you have in mind.
