For Sale : € 190,000

Description
Life in Athienou gathers around the heart of its community, and this large residential field lies not far from that centre, with everyday amenities close by.

Covering 6,021 m², the land is zoned for residential use, giving room for a home within the setting of a Larnaca district community. Ground of this size keeps things uncomplicated and lets design priorities be set from the very beginning, from where a house might sit to how much open land is kept around it.

The land has no direct road access.

There is a quiet sense of possibility in sizeable ground so near the centre of Athienou, the kind of place where plans for a home can slowly take shape, close to the familiar rhythm of community life.
