For Sale : € 160,000

Description
Armou's village centre is only a short walk away, and its restaurants and cafés are close enough to reach on foot for a morning coffee or an unhurried evening meal. Here, two adjoining residential fields together form a large holding of 6,820 m².

The residential zoning gives room for a home within the everyday life of a Cypriot village, with a mini market and local tables close at hand. A dirt road runs along one border of the fields, so the land has direct road access. Two parcels side by side offer plenty of ground to work with when shaping your plans, whether in a contemporary style or a more traditional one.

Beyond the village, the motorway between Limassol and Paphos is within easy reach, which links this setting with the wider district while village life stays right on the doorstep.

A large stretch of residential land so close to the heart of Armou brings together a village setting, practical road access and the freedom to plan a home on generous ground.
