For Sale : € 498,000

Description
Open views across the surrounding area set the tone for these four fields in Polemi, a Paphos village whose centre lies just a short drive away. Together they cover 58,730 m², a sizeable stretch of countryside with a closer connection to nature and the neighbouring village of Stroumpi also within easy reach.

Each field has direct road access. The land is zoned for both agricultural and residential use, so it can carry farming on its agricultural part and offers room for a home on its residential part.

Picture walking the land on a clear day, taking in the views around you, with everyday village life in Polemi only minutes away. It is a setting that rewards time spent outdoors and a slower, countryside rhythm, while the village keeps daily needs close at hand.

A distribution agreement is in place. The sale is a 39.34% share of each of the four fields.

Open views, direct road access and a village close by give this Polemi land its lasting appeal.
