

For Sale, Land, Nicosia, Arediou, 781m²

Arediou carries the steady rhythm of village life, and this...

For Sale : € 25,000

Description
Arediou carries the steady rhythm of village life, and this residential land sits close to its heart. The village centre is near at hand, and a school lies within walking distance, so school mornings can begin with a stroll rather than a drive.

At 781 m², the land offers room for a home shaped around your own brief, with your design priorities set from the very first sketch. Its residential zoning gives a clear sense of what it is for: a family house in authentic village surroundings, close to the everyday places that make a neighbourhood feel like home.

The land has no direct road access.

For anyone weighing an honest alternative to city living, this is a piece of Arediou on which to picture a future home, with the village and its school close by.
