Description
Everyday life in Pegeia unfolds within an easy stroll of this semi-detached house. Shops, cafés and tavernas are close enough to reach on foot, and the sands of Coral Bay are only a short drive away. On those days the coast is never far from your plans. Set over two floors, the home opens downstairs into an open-plan kitchen and living area, where cooking and conversation share the same space, with a guest toilet close at hand. Upstairs, three bedrooms offer a calm retreat at the end of the day, one of them with its own en-suite bathroom. Covered verandas carry life outdoors, a sheltered spot for a morning coffee or a long, unhurried evening meal. The house is one of fourteen homes in a residential setting that share a communal swimming pool, a welcome place to cool off on a warm afternoon. A distribution agreement is in place. With the pool within the complex, Pegeia's cafés nearby and the beaches of Coral Bay a short drive away, this is a home where the coast and the town both feel close.
