For Sale : € 50,000

Description
In the village of Polemi, with restaurants and cafés right beside it and shops and supermarkets within an easy walk, this house waits for someone to finish what has been started. Village life sits on the doorstep: a morning coffee, an evening meal out, the daily errands done on foot.

So far the foundations and the reinforced concrete frame have been built, giving an 85 m² structure on a plot of 447 m². The house is unfinished, and everything beyond the frame is still to be done.

That leaves the next chapter in your hands. The finishes and the character of each room can follow your own taste, around a frame that already stands. The house is one of seven in a small development that is under construction, and schools are a short drive away.

A home in the heart of Polemi, its shape already rising, waiting for the hands that will complete it.
