Description
Just outside the village of Kallepeia, in the Paphos district, a three-bedroom house stands on two parcels of land totalling 9,804 m². Homes and open, undeveloped plots surround it, giving the setting a relaxed, unhurried feel away from the pace of town life.

The house is incomplete. Around 117 m² of living space has been laid out for three bedrooms, and a veranda offers a place to picture long evenings outdoors once the work is finished. It is a home waiting for someone to complete it and make it their own.

All of the land lies within residential zoning, with two floors permitted, and both parcels have direct road access. That gives generous room around the house, along with the freedom to plan its surroundings your way.

The village centre is a short drive away, as are neighbouring Letymvou and Tsada, so everyday shops, cafés and schools stay within easy reach. A house to finish on a large stretch of residential land, just beyond Kallepeia, where a new chapter could take shape.
