For Sale : € 547,500

Description
Close to the heart of Ergates, two level fields sit on either side of a dirt road. Undeveloped land and a scattering of village homes surround them, giving the setting an open, unhurried feel. Each parcel fronts the road directly, and together they offer 11,605 m² of flat, even ground.

The larger field holds almost all of that area, while a small second parcel lies just across the road. Both fall within a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. Electricity, water and telecommunications can be brought to the land.

Village life stays close by. The centre of Ergates is only a short way off, and schools and green spaces are within walking distance. Good links also run towards Nicosia city, so the capital feels comfortably near.

Wide, level ground on the edge of a welcoming village gives you space to shape a home around the open land that surrounds it.
