Description
Shops, cafés and restaurants lie within walking distance of this residential field in Prodromi. The beaches, the town of Polis and the village of Latchi, with its fishing shelter, are all a short drive away.

The land covers 2,443 m² in a fairly rectangular shape with a gentle slope. It fronts a public road, so it has direct road access. Water, electricity and telecommunications can be connected. The residential zoning gives room for a home of up to two floors. The neighbourhood around it mixes existing homes with open, undeveloped plots.

Picture everyday life here: a short walk to the shops for the day's groceries, an evening meal at a nearby restaurant, and unhurried afternoons at the beach just a drive away. A sports venue is also within walking distance, and Paphos International Airport is about 35 km away.

A sizeable piece of residential land, with daily conveniences on foot and the beaches never far.
