Description
In Nisou, among farmland and undeveloped parcels, lies a field of 5,157 m² with a school right next door. The village centre is close by, and so is the neighbouring village of Pera Chorio, so everyday life in the Nicosia district is never far away.

The zoning is split between industrial and protection uses. The industrial part suits a business use, giving room to set up a workshop or base in a village setting. The protection part is a limitation that comes with the land.

The field has no direct road access.

What stands out here is the simple combination of size, industrial zoning and a setting where open countryside meets village life. For anyone weighing a business base in Nisou, this is a sizeable piece of land to consider, surrounded by fields and close to the village and its school.
