Description
Village life in Lysos sits right on your doorstep. Restaurants, cafés and the local shops are all within walking distance, and the open water of Evretou Lake is only a short drive away for slow weekend afternoons.

Inside, the living and dining area opens into the kitchen, so cooking, eating and unwinding share one generous space at the heart of the home. Two bedrooms sit on the ground floor and a third has the first floor to itself. Each has its own en-suite, so busy mornings never mean waiting for the bathroom.

Double-glazed windows and ceramic floors run through the house, and there are provisions for split units and central heating. The house carries an Energy Class B rating. It is one of a small group of eleven houses in a residential setting, with a parking space of its own.

A village home where every bedroom has its own bathroom and your morning coffee is just a stroll away.
