Description
Life in Frenaros stays close at hand here. Cafés, restaurants and the local shops are all within walking distance of this four-bedroom house, which sits among other homes in a residential part of the village.

At its heart is an open living and dining room that flows into the kitchen, one shared space for long meals and easy evenings together. Four bedrooms give everyone a room of their own. Two of them have en-suite bathrooms, and there is a further bathroom and a guest toilet. Built in 2007, the house stands on its own plot with a parking space.

When the weekend comes, the open water of Paralimni Lake is a short drive away, and schools are within easy reach by car. Everyday errands, a coffee in the village or dinner out can all start on foot from the front door. The house is currently occupied.

A home with room to spare, woven into the everyday rhythm of Frenaros.
