Description
Among the homes of Lympia village, this four-bedroom house keeps daily life close at hand. Supermarkets and shops sit right beside it, and the Nicosia–Larnaca motorway is within easy reach whenever you need to travel further.

The ground floor gathers around an open-plan kitchen, dining and living room, a natural place for shared meals and long evenings together. Two bedrooms share this level, one with its own en-suite, and there is a guest toilet for visitors. Upstairs, a small living room offers a second place to unwind, alongside two more bedrooms, a bathroom and an open balcony for a breath of fresh air.

Outside, the yard gives you space to step out and enjoy the open air, with a storage room for the practical things and an uncovered parking space. Double glazing, oil boiler heating and split units help keep the house comfortable through every season, making it a home that suits year-round living.

Four bedrooms, two living areas and a yard of your own, all in a village setting with everyday shopping right next door.
