For Sale : € 180,000

Description
Engomi offers city living with a neighbourhood feel: homes and businesses side by side, and the centre of Nicosia within easy reach. Here, a residential field of 780 m² gives you the chance to build a home of your own in the middle of it all. The land fronts a registered road, so it has direct road access, and its residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors. Picture a family house taking shape on its own ground, with the University of Nicosia not far away and the everyday shops and businesses of the area close at hand. Mornings in town, evenings back home, and only a short trip between the two. For anyone who wants to put down roots in one of the capital's well-connected suburbs, this is a plain and honest starting point, a place where your next chapter could truly begin.
