For Sale : € 172,000

Description
Between the heart of Kato Pyrgos and the sea, this sizeable residential field offers a setting where village life and the coast both feel close at hand. The village centre is a short way off, and the shoreline is not much further.

At 3,159 m², the land sits in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. A corner position gives it direct road access along two of its borders, so reaching it and shaping plans around it come naturally. Homes and other undeveloped parcels surround it, giving the area an already residential character.

Imagine a family home rising here, with mornings that start with a stroll into the village and afternoons that drift towards the sea. A short drive brings you to the neighbouring village of Pano Pyrgos, and further into the region lies the Gialia Monastery, part of the wider landscape that makes this corner of Cyprus feel so lived in and welcoming.

A generous corner of residential land, with the village beside it and the sea within easy reach, ready for the home you have in mind.
