For Sale : € 143,000

Description
Agios Theodoros keeps the unhurried rhythm of a Larnaca village, with a strong local identity and its village centre a short drive away. Here, a field zoned for residential use offers room for a home amid authentic village surroundings.

The area carries a long story. The Neolithic settlement of Choirokoitia, one of the island's best-known heritage sites, lies a short drive from the village, so ancient history sits within easy reach of everyday life.

Picture a home taking shape on this land, with village life setting the pace around it and the relaxed island lifestyle close at hand. It is an unpretentious, grounded place to begin, shaped by the character of the village rather than by the bustle of town.

A residential field in Agios Theodoros, where your next chapter could take root.
