For Sale : € 142,000

Description
Village life sets the tone here in Palaiometocho. This residential field sits among homes and open parcels of land. The village centre, schools, cafés and everyday shops are all a short drive away, so daily routines stay simple.

Zoned for residential use, the land offers room for a home of up to two floors. It sits in a neighbourhood that is already taking shape around it. A generous stretch of frontage along the road gives the field direct road access. Picture a family home rising here, with the familiar rhythm of the village close at hand.

Nature is never far away either. The green surroundings of Lefkovounos are a short drive from the land, offering an easy escape from the pace of town life whenever the mood strikes.

A distribution agreement is in place. The sale is of a 1/2 share of the field. A village setting, residential zoning and direct road access come together here in an appealing balance of location and flexibility.
