Description
In Agia Anna, in the Larnaca district, this field lies within walking distance of restaurants and cafés. A morning coffee or an unhurried evening meal out is only a stroll from your own land.

The field is zoned for residential use and offers room for a home of your own, designed around the way you want to live. It is a straightforward starting point: a piece of land, a residential zone and the chance to shape what comes next.

Wider life in the area stays close. Psevdas and Pyrga are a short drive away, as are schools, parks and green spaces. Larnaca International Airport is within a drive, which keeps the rest of the island and further travel within reach.

A residential field with cafés a walk away is easy to sum up, and easy to picture as home.
