Description
Pissouri village life sits a short drive away, and Columbia Beach Resort is within easy reach. Together they give this residential plot of 879 m² an inviting setting. The land lies among residential homes and undeveloped parcels, a place where a home of your own could take shape at your own pace.

Practical groundwork is already in place. The plot fronts a road, so it has direct road access, and water, electricity and telecommunication services are all available. Its residential zoning allows room for a home of up to two floors, designed around the site and the way you want to live.

The village centre is close for everyday errands and a coffee, and Paphos International Airport is about 15 km away for trips to and from Cyprus. It is a plot that pairs village surroundings with the beach nearby, ready for a home shaped by both.
