For Sale : € 110,000

Description
Lageia keeps the easy rhythm of a Larnaca village, and this field sits right within it, a short walk from the village church and surrounded by residential homes. It is a setting with genuine traditional village charm, where everyday life still turns around the church and the neighbours nearby.

The land lies in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors, and it has direct road access along its frontage. Picture a family house taking shape here, with the church close enough to reach on foot and the village gathered around you.

When you want a change of scene, neighbouring Vavla is a short drive away, and so is Kalavasos Lake, a lovely spot for an unhurried afternoon outdoors. It is an uncomplicated way to settle into the relaxed pace of island life without leaving the warmth of a living village behind.

A distribution agreement is in place. The sale is for a 1/2 share of the field.

A plot of residential land in the heart of Lageia, where a new home can grow among old village ways.
