Description
Pissouri village centre is a short drive away, and Columbia Beach Resort is within reach as well, so village life and the seaside are both close at hand. On this residential plot of 859 m², there is room for a home of your own in one of Limassol's best-loved villages.

The surroundings mix homes with open parcels of land, giving the area a settled residential character. The plot fronts a road, so it has direct road access. Water, electricity and telecommunications serve the site, which keeps the practical side of planning a home simple.

Its residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors. That leaves you free to imagine the house you want, whether contemporary or traditional in spirit, shaped to the plot and its setting. Picture mornings that begin with a short trip into the village for coffee and errands, and afternoons that can end at the beach resort nearby.

Paphos International Airport lies about 15 km away, which makes trips to and from the island easy. With the village and the coast both close by, this is the groundwork for a home in Pissouri.
