Close to the sea and to the heart of the village,
this field...

For Sale : € 110,000

Description
Close to the sea and to the heart of the village, this field lies in Kato Pyrgos, a coastal community where the shoreline and everyday village life are both near at hand. It is a setting that invites you to imagine the life you could build here.

The land covers 1,663 m² and sits in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. Around it, open parcels of land mix with several residential developments, giving the area a lived-in, settled character. The land has no direct road access.

Picture a home of your own here, with the village centre, its shops and cafés close by, and the sea only a short way off. Further afield, the wider region holds the Gialia Monastery and the Cyprus Mufflon Enclosure, a reminder of the heritage and nature that surround this corner of the island.

A large residential plot in a seaside village, where the sea and village life stay close.
