Description
Open countryside surrounds this residential field outside Ergates village. Farmland and undeveloped parcels sit alongside a scattering of homes, giving the area an unpretentious, rural character in the Nicosia district.

The land covers 1,933 m² and lies within a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. Picture a family house taking shape among the fields, with open land around it and village life close by. The village of Anaguia is nearby, and supermarkets and shops are a short drive away for everyday needs.

The field has no direct road access.

A sizeable piece of residential land in relaxed rural surroundings, where a home of your own could one day stand among the fields of Ergates.
