Description
Three adjoining fields form this sizeable stretch of agricultural land in the countryside of Asgata, in the Limassol district. Together they cover 42,477 m² in a regular shape on sloping ground, surrounded by other farmland and undeveloped parcels. The village of Vasa Kellakiou is a short drive away.

The agricultural zoning suits farming and planting across the whole area. The land has no direct road access. It is a large, regular holding of three neighbouring fields set among open farmland.
