Description
Pissouri has a gentle pull to it, with village life on one side and the coast around Columbia Beach Resort a short drive away on the other. This residential plot lets you claim a place of your own within that easy rhythm, among homes and open parcels of land.

The land offers room for a home of up to two floors, with direct road access along its frontage. Water, electricity and telecommunication are already available, so the essentials are in place from the start. At 715 m², it gives a clear, manageable footprint for planning the house you have in mind.

Picture mornings that begin with a short drive into the village centre for coffee and supplies, and afternoons that drift towards the seaside resort. It is an uncomplicated setting for a home, held between the warmth of a Cypriot village and the pleasures of the coast.

Here, Pissouri can become your everyday.
