Description
Village life is only a short stroll away from this residential field in Trachypedoula, a Paphos village whose centre sits within easy walking reach. Around it, homes share the neighbourhood with open, undeveloped parcels, which gives the setting an easy, open feel.

The land measures 1,924 m² and lies in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. It is a generous canvas on which to shape a house around everyday village rhythms. Morning errands and evening walks can start right from your own front door.

Beyond Trachypedoula, the neighbouring villages of Prastio and Kelokedara are a short drive away. Paphos International Airport lies about 20 km off, so the wider district stays within comfortable reach.

It is a sizeable piece of land close to the heart of a Paphos village, with space to build a home that truly belongs there.
