Description
Village life in Letymvou starts right at the edge of this residential field, with restaurants and cafés next door and the village centre a short drive away. Homes stand nearby alongside plots that are still waiting for their own story, giving the area a settled residential feel with room to grow around you.

The land covers 799 m² and is zoned for residential use, with room for a home of up to two floors. Imagine a family house taking shape here, mornings starting with a coffee from the café next door, and evenings spent among neighbours in a village setting.

The field fronts a registered road, though that road has not yet been built on site.

Unpretentious and clear in its purpose, this is a chance to plan a home of your own among the houses of Letymvou, close to the everyday pleasures of village life.
