For Sale : € 51,000

Description
Just beyond Maroni village, this residential field lies among farmland and undeveloped parcels, a rural corner of Larnaca with the coast never far away. The beaches are a short drive off, and the village centre is close by for coffee, shopping and the small rhythms of everyday life.

With 1,608 m² of residential land, there is room to plan a home of up to two floors, framed by fields and open ground. Picture mornings that start with a drive into the village, long afternoons by the sea, and evenings back on your own piece of the Larnaca countryside, with open land stretching around you.

The land has no direct road access; it is reached by a right of way over neighbouring parcels.

Countryside on every side, a village close at hand and the beaches within easy reach make this a setting in which a home of your own can slowly take shape.
