For Sale : € 50,000

Description
Picture the sea on the horizon from your own piece of village land. This sloping residential plot in Peristerona, Paphos, looks out over the surrounding area towards the sea. It is a setting to shape a home around your own ideas.

The land is zoned for residential use, with room for a home of up to two floors. Its fairly regular shape and its slope invite a design that makes the most of the outlook. The plot has direct road access, a pathway runs along another side and a green area lies alongside it. Electricity, water and telecommunications are available.

Around it, open parcels of land mix with scattered homes, giving an unpretentious residential setting at the edge of village life. The village centre, with its shops and cafés, is a short drive away, and Evretou Lake is close by for slower afternoons by the water.

Sea views, a village close at hand and a plot ready for your own vision make this a place worth seeing.
