Description
In the farming country around Laneia, this agricultural field covers 6,793 m² of rough, sloping ground. It has direct road access from a dirt road that runs along one of its boundaries. The surrounding area is largely undeveloped, made up of other fields and vineyards, and vineyards account for much of the farmed land near the village.

The centre of Laneia is a short drive away, and the main roads are within a drive. A sizeable piece of agricultural land with its own road frontage.
