For Sale : € 47,500

Description
In the Panagia Evangelistria quarter of Dali, where residential developments sit alongside open parcels of land, this plot offers room for a home shaped around your own brief rather than someone else's plans.

Set in a residential zone, the land allows a home of up to two floors, so there is scope for a design that fits the way you want to live. It is a compact, uncomplicated plot, and it fronts a road along one side for direct road access, which makes the first steps of a build straightforward to picture.

Daily life is close at hand. Schools are within walking distance, so the morning run could be made on foot, and the heritage site of Idalion is a short drive away for a slower afternoon among the past of the area.

A plot in an established residential part of Dali, waiting for the home you have in mind.
