Description
Close to the heart of Anglisides, this field of 669 m² sits in a residential setting, among homes and a few undeveloped parcels. The village centre lies only a short distance away, and schools and a local shop are within walking distance, so everyday village life unfolds right around it.

The land lies in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. Picture a family house taking shape here, part of the familiar rhythm of a Larnaca village, with neighbours close by and Larnaca International Airport a drive away for journeys abroad. The land has no direct road access.

A residential plot near the centre of Anglisides, offering space to plan a home within the life of the village.
